

The Indian Journal of Maternal and Child Health was started in 1990 with a view to promote publication of research in this vital field. In a short span it acquired a large readership base and was included in a number of data bases. It was regularly published till 1999 when it had to be discontinued due to technical reasons. However owing to the demand of the readership it is resuming publication.

Instructions to contributors

Manuscripts pertaining to research on health of women and children only are acceptable. It is expected that the work is original and each of the authors has made a substantial and significant contribution to the work submitted. The authors will have the sole responsibility for the authenticity of the work. The manuscript should NOT have been published or submitted elsewhere. The articles are subject to peer review and editorial revision. By submitting the article for publication the authors would be deemed to have transferred the copy rights to the Indian Journal of Maternal and Child Health on final publication which is subject to terms and conditions.

Manuscripts

Manuscripts are to be submitted on line to editor@ijmch.org. Kindly submit as Microsoft WORD 2003® document. The total length should not exceed 2000 words. The manuscript should be divided in the following sections: Title, Authors, Institutional affiliation, Abstract, Key words, Introduction, Materials and methods, Observations, Discussion, Conclusions and References.

The page size should be A 4 with default margins, in single space and the font should be Calibri size 12 unless indicated otherwise.

Title: It should be in title case, font size 14 and bold.

Authors: Surname and initials, bold.

Institutional affiliation: Plain text.

Abstract: It should be in 150 words and sub divided into research questions, settings, study design, participants, methodology, and results.

Key words Maximum six, bold and italics...

Text: It should be divided as above. The references should be numbered by Arabic numerals in parentheses chronologically and should appear in the reference section in the same order. The tables should be minimal in number simple and of manageable size. They should be numbered by Roman numerals and captioned in a uniform style. All illustrations should be in word 2003 format...

References: These should be cite in Vancouver style and citations like op cit ,ibid should be used.

NOTE: While articles based on thesis are acceptable; authors must refrain from “cutting and pasting”.